

Eastern Michigan University
SHRM Preferred Provider
EMU Extended Programs
Non-Credit Professional Development Course

Working Collaboratively Across Business Functions
January 18 – February 15, 2017
Totally Online
$550 includes materials
Taught by Dr. Christine Day

Working collaboratively is a strategic business skill. Regardless of the mission of the team or project, the ability to collaborate is imperative to sustain success and to eliminate destructive conflict. For HR managers, who must work collaboratively with many other business functional partners, such as Marketing, Design, Accounting, Manufacturing, Engineering, Sales, Purchasing, this synergy and integration is imperative to reach organizational objectives.

To register, please contact:

Register online by visiting http://www.emich.edu/extended/training/professional-development/hr\_training/SHRMstrategic.php and clicking on register now. Questions may be addressed to: Jaclyn Hassenzahl, jhassenz@emich.edu, 734/487-9045.

Pre-approved Strategic HR Recertification Course. Gain 15 recertification SHRM or HRCI business credits upon successful completion.