You're cordially invited to join Sterling Insurance Group as Senior Benefits Consultant - Brad Richards – leads a discussion exploring the many facets of workplace wellness: what wellness can look like, using wellness as a hiring and retention tool and tried and true methods to keep employees healthy and engaged. Often the most simple wellness tools are at an HR professional's fingertips - without them knowing. Join us as Brad uses his more than 20 years of expertise in the area to address best practices for the many facets - and benefits - of a comprehensive wellness program.
